A PLEA FOR DECENCY

Citizen Says Young Minds Are Influenced by Shiny Weapons.

The question of compelling pawnshops and hardware dealers to resmove firearm displays from their windows in an attempt to discourage crime in Tulsa, was indefinitely presponed at the regular meeting of the city commission year terday.

meeting of the city commission yesterday.

The indiscriminate display of revolvers, dangerous looking knives, "knurks," and other weapons generally found a the possession of criminals, will not be disturbed, owing to the passionate plea of an interested design, the characterized the contemplated action, which is generally resarded as a step toward law and order and common decayey, as "small lown stuff."

Themove the suggestive influence," a prominent citizen said, "and the young mind will run in other and perhaps more wholesome channels."

The hardware dealer who speke against the proposed ordinance declared "the hardware man has to sell his goods just as any other business man, and since there is no state law forbidding the sale of weapons I do not think the city has any right to force them out of the store windows.

One of the commissioners entered a motion to draw up an ordinance on the matter, but it failed, lacking the necessary second, the remainder of the commissioners remaining silent.

A motion was passed, however, reatlent.

A motion was passed, however, re-ferring the matter to City Attorney Frank Duncan for a legal opinion, which is expected in the near

By Train Sues Frisco Railroad.

Damages of $35,000 for personal injuries austained by J. F. Myors when he was threws from an automobile when the latter was struck by a risco railroad train four miles west of Chandler on December 15, 1915, were asked in a guit filed in district court yea'sriday.

Myers claims he decreased the speed of his car when approaching the Frisco railroad crossing, but because of the negligence of the agents of the railroad, no whistic was blown or any signal made, and as a result the train struck the automobile throwing it, with the plaintiff, a long distance from the track and causing Myers to suffer great pain from injuries which he claims are of a permanent nature.
